

The Daily Courant.

Friday, April 9. 1714.

London, April 9.

Yesterday arrived the Mails due from Holland.

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated April 14.

Ambsbourg, April 5.

TH E Envoys (or Deputies) of the Protestant Electors and Princes having observed that Endeavours are used to continue the Diet here, met last Saturday at the Lodgings of the Elector of Saxony's Ministers, and came to a Resolution, that there is no just Reason for leaving the City of Ratisbon. Several of the Envoys signified, that Provisions, House-hire, and other things are so dear here, that they had rather lay down their Employments than sit, here longer. The Envoys of the Protestant Princes are very much concerned, that immediately after the Conclusion of the Peace new Complaints should come against Proceedings (in the Palatinate &c) that are contrary to what is Stipulated about Religion by the Treaty of Westphalia; they are likewise troubled to hear, that the Vaudois Subjects of the Duke of Savoy, who carried themselves so faithfully towards their Sovereign during the late War, are persecuted rigorously as formerly. Whereupon the Protestant Ministers have resolved to draw up in one Representation all the Grievances relating to Religion, and to send it to their Principals, that they may have such Orders as are proper for opposing the Progress of this Evil. But whereas the Duke of Savoy has by a Minister desired to be acknowledged by the Empire for King of Sicily, the said Protestant Ministers have now under Deliberation, whether they shall make a Remonstrance to his Royal Highness that his Proceeding against the Protestants is not the Way to gain his End, but rather to hinder it; or whether they shall leave the Care of this to the Queen of Great Britain.

Scafhuyzen, April 5. The two Treasurers of the Canton of Bern, set out from thence Yesterday-Morning for Arau, whether they are gone to confer with the Deputies of the Canton of Zurich, concerning the Measures to be taken with respect to what may be proposed on the Part of the lesser Cantons, in the Assembly that is to be held in Switzerland between the Ministers of the Empire and those of France. 'Tis advised from Appenzel, that the Commonalty have seized the Revenues of the Capuchins of that Country, till they have Permission given them to read the Bible in the German Tongue, and till the Images and other Objects of Superstition are removed out of the Churches.

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated April 14.

Stockholm, March 17. The Body of the Peasants (who are one of the States of this Kingdom) have sent Deputies to the Body of the Nobility, to desire their Consent for authorizing the Princess Ulrica to make Peace in the King's Absence: Upon which the said Body of the Peasants are so bent, that they have sent back hither their Deputies who were returned home from the Assembly without seeing a Resolution passed on this Head, enjoining them to use their utmost Endeavours to persuade the other States to this on any Terms, and to give all Authority to the Regent for this purpose.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated April 13.

Hambourg, April 6. The Duke Administrator of Holstein-Gottorp has published a Piece intitled, A succinct Deduction, proving the King of Denmark to be the Aggressor against the most serene House of Holstein-Gottorp. The Demolition of the Fortifications of Tonnungen, which cost four Millions, is carried on without Intermision: The Counterscarp is already razed; and the Artillery which were on the Ramparts, are put on board divers Vessels; so that 'tis like to be reduced soon to the Condition of a mean Village. All the Danish Troops which are in Holstein, have received Order to hold themselves in Readyness to march; but 'tis not certainly known whither they are designed to move.

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated April 14.

Hague, April 12. Last Night came certain Advice, that the Ratifications of the Treaty of Peace concluded between the Emperour and France, were on the 6th Instant mutually exchanged in due Form at the Palace of Rastat; for which good News some Fireworks were let off by the Servants of the Imperial Envoy Baron Heerma. The Marquis de Chateaufort Ambassadour of France sent a Gentleman this Morning to his Excellency the said Imperial Envoy, who in return has since made the Marquis a Visit and notified to him the said Exchange of the Ratifications. Prince Kurakin, Ambassadour of the Czar of Muscovy, is set out from hence for Brunswick, with full Powers and Instructions to treat in the Congress there of Peace with the Crown of Sweden: And 'tis reported, the Czar is disposed to consent to very equitable Conditions of Peace, as Affairs stand, with the Swedes. To Day at Noon a solemn Deputation from the Assembly of the States-General, consisting of M. Rantwyk, Alphen, the Pensionary Heinsius, Konink, Schoonauwen, Burum, Yffelmuyden, Steenhuisen, and the Register Pagel, went in divers Coaches to confer with the British Minister the Earl of Strafford in his own House; and after some time spent in Conference with his Excellency, returned to make Report thereof to the Assembly of the States-General. To Day likewise, the Deputies of some Colleges of the Admiralty sat to consult about our naval Affairs.

Where is also sold, The Present State of the Prison of Ludgate, discovering its Customs, Privileges and Advantages; and what Treatment Prisoners of both Sexes meet with, from their Entrance to their Discharge, with pleasant Relations of their Humours, way of Living, Marriages, Burials, manner of Government, &c. the whole very Useful and Entertaining. Price 1 s.

The Universal Cleanser, and Rectifier of the Stomach and Blood. A Quintessence to be taken in Drops, that for creating an Appetite, perfecting the Digestion, and sweetening the Blood, is believ'd to be the most excellent Medicine known. In deprav'd Habits of Body from hard Drinking, Surfeits, or otherwise, where the Blood is vitiated, and fill'd with gross foul Humours, over-run with the Scum, grows sour, and declining, it alters, renovates, and invigorates it; and makes such a sudden Amendment as is wonder'd at by all. And for recovering the lost Tonic of the Stomach and Blood, which if neglected would terminate in a Dropsy, or some other chronic inevitable Distemper; as also for establishing a lasting state of Health; is really a Remedy that is judg'd has not its fellow. Likewise for young Persons that look pale and whiterly, by eating things absurd, and for the Green-sickness in Virgins, it is of such efficacy, that it is surprising to see the wonderful Alteration a few Doses of it makes. It is a bitter but grateful Medicine, not Purging, yet keeps the Body Laxative, and works by Urine, carrying off thereby the various Humours naturally and pleasantly. Price 3 s. 6 d. a bottle. To be had only at Mr. Crouch's, Bookfeller, at the Bell against the Bank of England in the Poultry.
